

Village Shopping Center Update

New Providence Mayor John A. Thoms announced today that building permits for the Village Shopping Center have been issued to Paragano Associates. Visitors to the shopping center are advised to be alert to construction activity.

Paragano Associates have advised Mayor Thoms that infrastructure work will begin next week with the installation of electrical conduits, sanitary lines and storm water work, followed by improvements to the parking lot - including lighting - and work on the façade of the buildings.

Simultaneously, work will begin on the new building. The construction of the A&P is expected to begin as the other work in the shopping center progresses, pending approval of the final plans by the A&P.
